I like Open Source, I like GNOME but...

I have a work (not OSS friendly)

I've some personal projects...

I've some hobbies...

I don't have time for GNOME!

Remember: time = life

I don't have time = I don't have life

Using GNOME is a hobby

You might start to use it at work as well

Having a hobby at work, how fun is that?

Help and support your friends that start using GNOME

And write some documentation for them

Maybe you could join the documentation team

Translating mistakes spotted by your friends

Or reporting bugs they face while using GNOME

Triaging bugs and finding duplicates

And become part of the community

Making new friends

And become part of the community

Making new friends

Have fun, it's only a hobby!

You make the world a better place!

Why not writing patches?

Or creating a new application?

When is a new application really needed?

A photograph showing a man from behind, wearing a hat and a light-colored shirt, standing in shallow, clear water. He is looking towards a small, white wooden boat with blue trim that is beached on a rocky shore. The water is filled with long, thin, green aquatic plants that reach up towards the boat and the man. The overall scene has a somber and contemplative atmosphere.

Could you support it alone for years?

Do you really want to write an application?

A large, patterned snake, possibly a green tree python or similar, is coiled around several dark, woody tree branches. The snake's body is thick and textured with a pattern of yellow, black, and white scales. It is positioned diagonally across the frame, with its head near the top left and its tail extending towards the bottom right. The background is a dense, out-of-focus green foliage, suggesting a tropical forest environment.

A graphic illustration of a screaming brain, rendered in shades of red and orange, set against a dark, smoky background. A hand is visible on the right side, gripping a long, metallic sword hilt. The scene conveys a sense of horror or intense emotion.

Burn autotools!

Make it easy cheese!

A photograph of a woman with glasses and a blue blazer sitting at a desk, completely buried under a massive, sprawling pile of papers. She is looking directly at the camera with a weary expression. The desk is a dark wood, and there are stacks of papers everywhere, spilling over the edges and filling the background. A white rectangular box with a black border is positioned in the upper right corner of the image, containing the text.
